

All the Dirt Podcast: Gardening, Sustainability and Food

Deryn Thorpe

Deryn Thorpe and Steve Wood combine decades of gardening, sustainability and environmental knowledge to create Australia's most popular gardening podcast. The show has a gentle conversational style and aims to give people the confidence to grow their own food, create a beautiful and healthy environment and cook simple meals. Most weeks Deryn and Steve are joined by a specialist guest who chats with them about their life, food, gardening and environmental passions.
