Physical Ratings

Enjoy great American and European art in Chicago, Boston, New York & Washington (incl. Barnes Collection) and architectural masterpieces like Frank Lloyd Wright's Oak Park houses & 'Fallingwater'.

Overview

Join Chris to explore the greatest art and architecture in five iconic American cities: Chicago, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington DC. Prof. Chris McAuliffe has taught art history at the University of Melbourne and Harvard University, and was Director of the Ian Potter Museum of Art, University of Melbourne for thirteen years.

- Visit Robie House and other homes designed by Frank Lloyd Wright in Oak Park, Chicago, including his own house and studio. View his eloquent Kentuck Knob at Chalk Hill, and the famous Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum in New York.
- See some of Chicago's finest architectural landmarks on a tour hosted by the Chicago Architecture Foundation, and view spectacular panoramas of the city on an architectural cruise on the Chicago River and Lake Michigan.
- Discover one of the most famous examples of modernist domestic architecture: Mies van der Rohe's Farnsworth House, Plano.
- Explore some of the world's greatest art collections – the Chicago Art Institute (home to Georges Seurat's La Grande Jatte), the Chicago Museum of Contemporary Art, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Frick Collection, the new Whitney Museum of American Art and MoMA in New York; and the Phillips Collection in Washington DC.
- In Boston tour the historic Public Library, visit the Institute of Contemporary Art and the splendid collections of the Museum of Fine Arts.
- Visit the great Barnes Foundation in Philadelphia. Opened in 2012, this houses America's finest collection of Impressionists and early Modernists, including seminal paintings by Cézanne, Renoir, Van Gogh, Seurat, Matisse, and Picasso.
- Compare the innovative contemporary architecture at IIT (Chicago) and MIT (Boston) with the historic buildings of Harvard and Yale Universities, and visit the Harvard Art Museums.
- On our 5-day New York sojourn, wander through New York's beautiful Central Park, Manhattan's distinctive local neighbourhoods, visit Times Square and the 9/11 Memorial Site, and walk along the High Line.
- Visit the great national monuments and museums of Washington DC, including the National Gallery of Art.
- Enjoy a special in-depth out-of-hours private visit to Frank Lloyd Wright's masterpiece, Fallingwater.

Testimonials

This was the best tour I have ever taken. I have considered a Frank Lloyd Wright tour of the USA for some time, but this tour embraced other famous architects as well as the most significant art galleries. It provided the perfect balance. Jane, NSW.

I loved this trip because of the range of art we enjoyed and the exciting cityscapes we explored, all under the expert guidance of Chris McAuliffe. All together, it was another stand-out ASA tour. Helen, VIC.

Don't miss this tour! Tour Leaders Chris and Stephanie enlightened us in a knowledgeable and gentle way. We came away knowing more about architecture and art, yet stimulated to know more. We had a great group of travelling companions who were eager to learn and participate in every aspect of the tour. Robert, NSW

Professor Chris McAuliffe

Professor in the School of Art and Design, ANU, Chris taught art history at Melbourne & Harvard. Former Director of the Ian Potter Museum of Art (Uni. Melbourne), he is a freelance curator, critic and art consultant and has published widely on Australian & American art. He leads ASA's Art & Architecture tours to France & the USA.

Dr Chris McAuliffe is a Professor of Art at ANU and a freelance curator, critic and art consultant. Dr McAuliffe took a BA Hons and an MA at the University of Melbourne and a PhD at Harvard University (1997) with a dissertation on contemporary American art. Chris taught art history and theory at the University of Melbourne (1988-2000), including conducting three ASA tours of the New York art scene. In 2011-12, he was the Gough Whitlam and Malcolm Fraser Visiting Professor of Australian Studies at Harvard University where he staged 'Tinnitus', a symposium on art and rock'n'roll.

Chris has published widely on both historical and contemporary art with a focus on Australia and the USA. His research focuses on the relationship of art with everyday life and popular culture, including sport, rock music and suburbia. His books include Art and suburbia (1996), Linda Marrinon: let her try (2007) and Jon Cattapan: possible histories (2008). He has also published in academic journals and exhibition catalogues on American pop art, Abstract Expressionism, earthworks art and minimalist sculpture. He has been a regular commentator on ABC radio and on ABC TV's 'Sunday Arts'.

Chris has extensive experience in the art museum sector, ranging from community-based contemporary art spaces through to the Council of the National Gallery of Victoria. From 2000-2013 he was Director of the Ian Potter Museum of Art, the University of Melbourne. Among the exhibitions he has curated are 'After the age of Aquarius: American art in the 1970s', 'Game on!: art and sport', and 'The Shilo project', an exhibition on Neil Diamond. In 2013, he was curatorial consultant for the major exhibition, 'America: painting a nation' at the Art Gallery of NSW, which featured works from museums in Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Houston and Chicago. In 2006, Chris initiated the Basil Sellers Art Prize; a biannual award for contemporary art on the theme of sport, one of the richest in Australia.

Chris has travelled extensively in the USA, having visited 26 of the 50 states (and counting!). He first moved to Boston in 1986 and has lived there and in New York for a total of five years. He has undertaken field research in the Southwest (California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico), exploring earthworks sculptures, and is an aficionado of the regional cuisines of the USA.

Chris McAuliffe's research interests include nineteenth and twentieth century art (Australia and America) with a focus on earthworks (Robert Smithson), abstract expressionism (Jackson Pollock), art and sport, art and rock music. He is currently a partner in the ARC-funded research project 'Fringe to Famous' which examines the crossover between 'alternative' and 'mainstream' Australian cultural production since the 1980s.

Itinerary

The days on this tour have been carefully programmed, however there will be opportunities for tour participants to break from the group to explore their own interests if they so desire. On a number of days the program is scheduled to finish mid/late afternoon thus allowing free time for individual exploration. Evenings have been deliberately left free to allow participants to avail themselves of endless dining opportunities and sample the many performing arts options found in each of the major cities to be visited. The daily activities described in this itinerary may be rotated and/or modified in order to accommodate changes in museum opening hours, flight schedules etc. The tour includes breakfast daily, lunches and dinners, indicated in the itinerary where: B=breakfast, L=lunch and D =dinner. All entrance fees on the official program are included in the tour price.

Chicago - 4 nights

Day 1: Wednesday 14 September, Arrive Chicago

- Arrival Transfer for those taking the ASA 'designated' flight
- Welcome Meeting

Participants taking the ASA 'designated' flight from Australia are scheduled to arrive into Chicago in the evening and will transfer directly to The Palmer House Hilton. If you are travelling independently to Chicago, you should take an officially marked taxi to the hotel. This evening we gather for a welcome meeting and drink. (Overnight Chicago)

Day 2: Thursday 15 September, Chicago

- Architecture Highlights Coach Tour
- Museum of Contemporary Art
- Chicago Cultural Centre
- Welcome Dinner at the Drawing Room Library Restaurant

This morning we embark on a Chicago Architecture Foundation 'Highlights by Bus' tour. On this two-and-a-half-hour private tour we shall visit Chicago's finest landmarks, including Ludwig Mies van der Rohe's IIT Campus and Frank Lloyd Wright's Robie House.

After time at leisure for lunch we visit the massive and modular home of the Museum of Contemporary Art, which offers an impressive array of exhibitions. We then make our way along the Magnificent Mile to the Chicago Cultural Centre, formerly the Chicago Public Library, which boasts two backlit stained glass Tiffany domes.

This evening we enjoy a Welcome Dinner at the Drawing Room Library Restaurant at the Chicago Athletic Association Hotel. (Overnight Chicago) BD

Day 3: Friday 16 September, Chicago

- Oak Park, incl. Frank Lloyd Wright's House & Studio
- Architecture River Cruise

This morning we drive to leafy Oak Park, where we see Frank Lloyd Wright's house and studio, featuring furniture he designed. We also see many other examples of his work in the Oak Park neighbourhood. Our visit is hosted by the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation.

After lunch we will take one of the famous Architecture cruises on the Chicago River. The rest of the afternoon will be free to explore the city – perhaps by visiting the Sears or Hancock building to take in the views. (Overnight Chicago) B

Day 4: Saturday 17 September, Chicago – Plano – Chicago

- Farnsworth House, Plano
- Chicago Art Institute

Ninety-four kilometres out of Chicago is one of North America's architectural masterpieces – Mies van der Rohe's 1951 Farnsworth House. This morning we drive to Plano to tour Farnsworth House and explore this fine example of Modernist domestic architecture.

This afternoon we visit one of the world's great art museums, the Chicago Art Institute. The Art Institute collection is both enormous and of the highest quality, and presents major works by Monet, Renoir, Picasso, Matisse and many more. Chagall's impressive stained glass windows are truly stunning. Our visit includes an orientation tour of the collection and participants will have time to wander at their leisure. (Overnight Chicago) B

Boston - 3 nights

Day 5: Sunday 18 September, Chicago – Boston

- Morning flight: Chicago – Boston
- Boston Public Library (subject to guide availability on a Sunday)

This morning we transfer by coach to Chicago airport for our flight to Boston on the East Coast. Boston, one of the most important historical cities in the USA, has been described as 'the cradle of American Independence'. Its most important buildings are more than just landmarks – they are icons of US history.

Boston's citizens have played a critical role in the development of the USA up to the present day. After settling into our hotel, we walk across the road to the marvellous Boston Public Library for a guided tour. Established in 1848, this was the first large free municipal library in the United States. The present building on Copley Square was completed in 1895, designed by architect Charles Follen McKim as a 'palace of the people'. In addition to its superb collection of books, the library is renowned for the murals that adorn the walls of the main halls. (Overnight Boston) B

Day 6: Monday 19 September, Boston

- Institute of Contemporary Art
- Harvard Art Museums
- MIT Campus

This morning we will travel by coach to the revitalised South Boston Seaport District where we shall visit the Institute of Contemporary Art. Originally established as the Boston Museum of Modern Art in 1936 and located at Harvard, the current building was opened in 2006 and contains both galleries and performance space. We then cross the Boston Harbor by ferry to ICA's new site – the Watershed. Opened in 2018 in a converted waterside warehouse, this space is used for special exhibitions. We then drive to Cambridge where we will visit the Harvard Art Museums, located alongside Harvard Yard. Established as an important learning tool for the university's students in the disciplines of art history and conservation, the Harvard Art Museums are also dedicated to advancing learning in the wider community with public education programs. Our day ends with a walking tour of MIT, one of the most architecturally dynamic university campuses in the world. The site has undergone an extraordinary regeneration over the last few decades. Here we will tour the buildings of this complex to see the works of 'Starchitects' Frank Gehry, I.M. Pei and Alvar Aalto, who transformed this previously pedestrian campus into a showcase of contemporary architecture. (Overnight Boston) B

Day 7: Tuesday 20 September, Boston

- Boston Museum of Fine Arts
- Afternoon at Leisure

Today we use the efficient Boston transport system to visit the Boston Museum of Fine Arts which boasts one of the country's finest collections of American art as well as extensive Asian and European art collections. Highlights of the collection include Rembrandt's The Artist in his Studio, Goya's Seated Giant, Copley's Paul Revere, and a host of works by El Greco, Velázquez, Monet, Degas, Cézanne, Van Gogh, Singer Sargent and a superb collection of Egyptian antiquities. (Overnight Boston) B

New York - 5 nights

Day 8: Wednesday 21 September, Boston – New Haven – New York

- Yale University

Today we travel by coach from Boston to 'New York, New York' for six days of discovery in the 'Big Apple', widely considered to be the world's greatest city. En route we shall visit New Haven, the home of Yale University. Here we shall have lunch and make a brief visit to the remarkable university, before continuing our drive to New York in the afternoon. On arrival we shall enjoy an orientation walk in the Midtown area to introduce the group to this incredible city. (Overnight New York) B

Day 9: Thursday 22 September, New York

- Whitney Museum of American Art
- The High Line and The Shed

This morning we visit the Whitney Museum of American Art. The Whitney opened at this new site in 2015 and is the country's preeminent museum dedicated to collecting, preserving and exhibiting the contemporary art of the United States. After a guided tour and time to visit the Whitney Biennial at your leisure, we walk to the nearby Gansevoort Street entrance to the High Line, a public park built on a historic freight rail line elevated above the streets on Manhattan's West Side. The High Line is owned by the City of New York and maintained and operated by Friends of the High Line. We shall walk a section of this park before returning to the hotel by subway. On our walk we will pass the impressive new art and performance space – The Shed. Opened to the public in April 2019, this is New York's first multi-arts centre designed to commission, produce and present all types of performing arts, visual arts and popular culture. The building itself is highly innovative and its most notable design feature is a telescoping outer shell that deploys over a plaza to create a great hall. (Overnight New York) B

Day 10: Friday 23 September, New York

- Central Park
- Metropolitan Museum of Art
- Afternoon at leisure

We start today with a walking tour of Central Park, that wonderful green oasis so important to New Yorkers and visitors alike. We follow this with a visit to the Metropolitan Museum of Art (the Met), one of the world's largest art museums. The collections are extraordinary, featuring works from prehistoric times to the post-industrial age. The antiquities collection is spellbinding, as is the huge holding of tribal art. The Met also has one of the greatest displays of American art and presents a comprehensive collection of European art that is arguably the most outstanding outside Europe. The Egyptian collections, including the Temple of Dendur, are a sight to behold. The medieval collection is housed in the Cloisters, located at the top of Manhattan Island. A visit could be easily achieved independently in the afternoon. There are a range of eateries in the Met and one of the world's largest and most impressive museum shops. After formal introductions to the collections you will be able to explore the Met at your leisure and stay until closing time, as the rest of the day is free. (Overnight New York) B

Day 11: Saturday 24 September, New York

- Walking tour including Fifth Avenue, Trump Tower and the Plaza Hotel
- The Frick Collection at the Old Whitney
- Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum

Our day will start with a 2-hour walking tour along Fifth Avenue, which provides an opportunity to pass the Trump Tower and the Plaza Hotel. Our first major stop is the magnificent Frick Collection. The collection owes its existence to Henry Clay Frick (1849-1919), a Pittsburgh coke and steel industrialist. Although relatively small in size, it does feature an acclaimed collection of Old Master paintings, Renaissance sculpture, eighteenth century furniture, porcelain and bronzes. The collection is usually displayed in a glorious Fifth Avenue mansion built by Frick in 1913-1914 as his New York home. However, this building is scheduled to undergo renovation from late 2020 and the Frick Collection will instead be presented in the building that was formerly the Whitney Museum and then the Met Breuer.

After a break for lunchtime at leisure, we visit the recently opened Met Breuer Museum which houses a collection of modern and contemporary art from the 20th and 21st centuries, sourced from artists around the world. The building itself was designed by Marcel Breuer in 1966, and housed the Whitney Museum of American Art prior to that museum's relocation to its new building.

We then visit the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum. World famous for its striking architecture, it is the work of the architect Frank Lloyd Wright – whom we have encountered in Chicago. Our visit will focus on the extraordinary architecture of this museum and also on the special exhibition that presents the story of the museum through a selection of highlights from the permanent collection. Group members then have the option of extending their visit to see the collection of notable modern artists, while some may wish to further explore some of the city's great architectural delights: Johnson's Seagram Building and AT&T House and SOM's Lever House. (Overnight New York) B

Day 12: Sunday 25 September, New York

- Museum of Modern Art
- Architecture walking tour

Today we take the subway to the Museum of Modern Art (MoMA), renowned throughout the world for the quality, scope and diversity of its collections. MoMA provides an unparalleled overview of the development of modern art. The building has been refurbished in recent years which makes the visit even more pleasant. There is a courtyard featuring a magical array of sculptures by artists such as Picasso and Moore. Museum shop fans will love the huge range of merchandise available. There will be an introductory presentation and tour of the museum and its collections. Afterwards, there is time to wander at your leisure through MoMA.

We walk the short distance to the New York Public Library's flagship Stephen A. Schwarzman Building. This iconic building, with its flight of steps guarded by lions, was opened in 1911. Its Rose Main Reading Room has provided a work and reading space for scholars and notable authors, but also for the general public who are welcome to use its facilities.

We then travel by subway to visit some of the innovative architecture of Downtown Manhattan – the World Trade Center Memorial and also the remarkable new Transportation Hub designed by Santiago Calatrava. Structural steel ribs create the vast open space within before extending upwards to form canopies, giving the building the appearance of a great white bird lifting in flight. (Overnight New York) B

Washington - 3 nights

Day 13: Monday 26 September, New York – Philadelphia – Washington DC

- The Barnes Foundation, Parkway Museum District

Early this morning we depart New York for Philadelphia to visit the new Barnes Foundation located on Benjamin Franklin Parkway. Located on 4.5 acres, the vast two-storey building houses the Foundation's art collection in an exhibition space that replicates the scale, proportion, and configuration of the original galleries in Merion. Designed by architects Tod Williams and Billie Tsien, it is described as a 'gallery in a garden, a garden in a gallery.' Boasting a textured grey-and-gold Ramon limestone exterior and a glass canopy that glows at night, the building is a breathtaking addition to the Parkway Museum District. It includes a number of sustainable features, including a green roof and a 40,000-gallon rainwater cistern to water the Olin-designed gardens. But the true draw is the Barnes Collection, arguably America's finest collection of Impressionist and Modernist works, including 181 Renoirs, 69 Cézannes and 59 Matisses, along with works by Manet, Degas, Seurat and Picasso. A tour of this collection will deepen your understanding of the European landscape tradition that has enriched American landscape painting and gardening.

This afternoon we continue our journey south to Washington DC. Time permitting, there will be a short orientation walk in the vicinity of our hotel. (Overnight Washington DC) B

Day 14: Tuesday 27 September, Washington DC

- National Mall Monuments and Memorials
- Library of Congress
- The Phillips Collection

This morning we embark on an excursion that will highlight some of the great monuments centered on the National Mall, the grand promenade designed by Pierre L'Enfant that stretches from the Capitol Building at one end to the Lincoln Memorial at the other, a Grecian-temple-style structure housing a statue of the former President. From the centre of the National Mall rises the tall white stone obelisk of the Washington Monument. We will drive through beautifully manicured parkland, past the long Reflecting Pool, to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial and the Korean War Memorial. We also pass the many galleries and museums that line the National Mall, several of which we will be returning to during our program.

We finish the morning with a visit to one of the greatest institutions in Washington DC, the magnificent Library of Congress. Three buildings named after early presidents combine to form the library, but it is the 1897 Jefferson Building with which visitors will be most familiar. It is here that we see the impressive Main Reading Room, and the vaulted ceiling of the ornate Great Hall. This is the largest library in the world and houses over 26 million books and 36 million manuscripts, plus significant collections of maps, sheet music, musical instruments and photographs.

This afternoon we visit the Phillips Collection, founded by Duncan Phillips in 1921. The museum is noted for its broad representation of both Impressionist and modern paintings, with works by European masters such as Courbet, Bonnard, Braque, Villon, Cézanne, Daumier, Degas, van Gogh, Klee, Matisse, Monet, and Picasso. In 1923, Phillips purchased Pierre-Auguste Renoir's impressionist painting, Luncheon of the Boating Party (1880-81), the museum's best-known work. (Overnight Washington DC) B

Day 15: Wednesday 28 September, Washington DC

- National Gallery of Art
- Afternoon at leisure

The morning will be spent at the National Gallery of Art, one of the USA's greatest art collections, with work by Da Vinci, Vermeer, Rembrandt, Monet and Renoir. After an introductory tour of the gallery highlights, participants will be free to explore the extensive museum at their own pace. You may even wish to try out the ice-skating rink in the Sculpture Garden!

This afternoon is at leisure. You may wish to visit one of the many wonderful museums to be found in the city – the National Museum of American History, National Portrait Gallery and the Smithsonian American Art Museum (formerly the National Museum of American Art) are all located in the Mall area and host marvellous collections. (Overnight Washington DC) B

Farmington - 1 night

Day 16: Thursday 29 September, Washington DC – Chalk Hill – Farmington

- Kentuck Knob, Chalk Hill

Early this morning we depart Washington and travel to the Laurel Highlands region of western Pennsylvania. Here we visit Frank Lloyd Wright's Kentuck Knob, which bears eloquent testimony to his genius. Dramatic yet serene, the home blends into the mountain against which it stands. It looks out on a breathtaking panorama of the Youghiogheny River Gorge and surrounding mountains. Kentuck Knob is a refinement of Wright's core principles of organic architecture. Designed in 1953 for the I.N. Hagan family, it was constructed by skilled local craftsmen. With an open plan based on a hexagonal grid it is constructed entirely of tidewater red cypress and native fieldstone. These stone walls not only visually anchor the house's two wings but also rise to penetrate the horizontal line of its copper roof. Its open floor plan, cantilevered overhangs and great expanses of glass artfully integrate outdoor and indoor spaces. Its expansive yet intimate interior is furnished to the tastes of its current owners, Lord and Lady Palumbo, dedicated patrons of the arts. A sculpture park has been integrated into the woodlands and informal gardens surrounding the house. It features 35 sculptures by masters such as Andy Goldsworthy, Harry Bertoia, Claes Oldenburg, Ray Smith, Michael Warren and Sir Anthony Caro.

Tonight we stay in a lodge located in the nearby town of Farmington and enjoy a dinner at the hotel. (Overnight Farmington) BD

Pittsburgh - 1 night

Day 17: Friday 30 September, Farmington – Mill Run – Pittsburgh

- Fallingwater, Mill Run: In-depth private visit
- Afternoon at leisure in Pittsburgh
- Farewell Dinner

This morning we depart our hotel early for a special out-of-hours in-depth tour of Frank Lloyd Wright's most famous house. Fallingwater was designed in 1936 for the family of Pittsburgh department store owner Edgar J. Kaufmann. The house's setting is dominated by the waterfall over which the house is built. The Kaufmanns chose the waterfall location but were unprepared for Wright's suggestion that the house rise over it rather than face it; yet they accepted the architect's original scheme unchanged. Completed in 1939, Fallingwater was constructed of sandstone quarried on the property and was built by local craftsmen. The stone walls rise between reinforced concrete 'trays' carrying the living and bedroom levels, that are dramatically cantilevered over the stream. Fallingwater was the weekend home of the Kaufmann family from 1937 until 1963, when the house, its contents and grounds were presented to the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy by Edgar Kaufmann Jr. Fallingwater is the only remaining great Wright house with its setting, original furnishings, and artwork intact.

In 1986, New York Times architecture critic Paul Goldberger wrote: "This is a house that summed up the 20th century and then thrust it forward still further. Within this remarkable building Frank Lloyd Wright recapitulated themes that had preoccupied him since his career began a half-century earlier, but he did not reproduce them literally. Instead, he cast his net wider, integrating European modernism and his own love of nature and of structural daring, and pulled it all together into a brilliantly resolved totality. Fallingwater is Wright's greatest essay in horizontal space; it is his most powerful piece of structural drama; it is his most sublime integration of man and nature."

We then drive to Pittsburgh for an afternoon at leisure. This evening we gather at the hotel for a farewell

dinner. (Overnight Pittsburgh) BD

Day 18: Saturday 1 October, Pittsburgh

- Andy Warhol Museum, Pittsburgh
- Airport transfer for participants departing on the ASA 'designated' flight

Our final visit for the tour is the Andy Warhol Museum which houses the world's largest collection of Warhol's work and archival materials. The collection of drawings, paintings, postcards, videos, sculptures and photographs covers the entire career of the artist, from his student days in his hometown of Pittsburgh through to his pop art paintings and films.

In the afternoon, participants travelling on the ASA 'designated' flight will transfer to the airport to take their flight home to Australia. Alternatively, you may wish to extend your stay in the USA. Please contact ASA if you require further assistance. B

Physical Endurance & Practical Information

Physical Ratings

The number of flags is a guide to the degree of difficulty of ASA tours relative to each other (not to those of other tour companies). It is neither absolute nor literal. One flag is given to the least taxing tours, seven to the most. Flags are allocated, above all, according to the amount of walking and standing each tour involves. Nevertheless, all ASA tours require that participants have a good degree of fitness enabling 2-3 hours walking or 1-1.5 hours standing still on any given site visit or excursion. Many sites are accessed by climbing slopes or steps and have uneven terrain.

This 18-day Art and Architecture in the USA tour involves:

- Exploring Chicago, Boston, New York, Washington DC and Pittsburgh on foot.
- Extensive walking daily (up to 5km per day), and standing during museum and other site visits.
- Use of the New York, Boston and Washington DC subway system where participants may need to negotiate many stairs.
- 3- & 4-star hotels with five hotel changes.
- You must be able to carry your own hand luggage. Hotel portage includes 1 piece of luggage per person.

It is important to remember that ASA programs are group tours, and slow walkers affect everyone in the group. As the group must move at the speed of the slowest member, the amount of time spent at a site may be reduced if group members cannot maintain a moderate walking pace. ASA tours should not present any problem for active people who can manage day-to-day walking and stair-climbing. However, if you have any doubts about your ability to manage on a program, please ask your ASA travel consultant whether this is a suitable tour for you.

Please note: it is a condition of travel that all participants agree to accept ASA's directions in relation to their suitability to participate in activities undertaken on the tour, and that ASA retains the sole discretion to direct a tour participant to refrain from a particular activity on part of the tour. For further information please refer to the ASA Reservation Application Form.

Prior to departure, tour members will receive practical notes which include information on visa requirements, health, photography, weather, clothing and what to pack, custom regulations, bank hours, currency regulations, electrical appliances and food. The Department of Foreign Affairs & Trade website has advice for travellers: www.smartraveller.gov.au

Continuing Professional Development for Architects

Practising architects who travelled on this program in past years qualified for informal Continuing Professional Development points. The eligibility for participants on the 2019 tour to qualify for Continuing Professional Development points is to be confirmed. The tour program includes over 10 hours of on-site learning delivered by qualified architects. Please refer to the daily schedule for the description of the sites visited. For details about the Continuing Professional Development point requirements please refer to the Australian Institute of Architects website: www.architecture.com.au.

- CANCEL your Intention to Travel in writing. ASA will refund your AUD $100.00 per person deposit, less a $33.00 service fee (including GST).

Participation Criteria

To participate in an ASA tour, you must be reasonably fit, in good health and able to participate in all activities without assistance from Tour Leaders or other tour members. If you require assistance, a fit and able travel companion must undertake to accompany and assist you with all tasks for the duration of the whole tour. ASA's ability to make reasonable adjustments to accommodate your specific needs, your health and safety and the health and safety of other tour members, is of paramount importance to us. For this reason the ASA Reservation Application includes a Medical Information section. As a general guideline, you must be able to accomplish each of these activities without assistance or support:

- walk and stand unassisted for at least 2-3 hours a day in hot, humid conditions

- walk confidently on and over uneven surfaces
- climb at least 3 flights of stairs
- embark and disembark from ferries, buses and trains
- walk up and down steep slopes
- walk at a steady pace and no less than 1km every 15-20 minutes
- organise, manage and carry your own luggage
- follow and remember tour instructions
- meet punctually at designated times and places
- administer your own medication
